

Full Moon Potluck Gathering

Good food • Good people • Time outside

You're invited to a Full Moon Potluck— We're gathering to share food, spend time on the land, & be in good company.

This is a simple, open space— bring a dish, bring a friend, bring whatever part of yourself feels present that day.

We'll eat together, maybe walk the land a bit, & let the evening unfold naturally. Sometimes that looks like laughter & light conversation, other times it opens into something a little deeper.

Alongside caring for land, we're also exploring how we relate—to each other, to our communities, & to the ways we live & work. There's space for those conversations if & when they arise.

No agenda, nothing to perform— just a chance to gather in a more human way.

Come if you're curious. Come if you're just getting started. Come if you've been at this for years.

Bring some food, bring a friend if you'd like, & join us under the full moon.
